NEWS RELEASE

October 14, 2008

For Immediate Release

This one's for the ladies.

Headline Honeys celebrate their one year anniversary with a charity show.

The Headline Honeys know that like a good brassiere, everyone does better with a little support. That's why their anniversary show will be a celebratory shimmy in honour of Marguerite's Place, a joint project of the St. John's Status of Women Council and the St. John's Women's Centre. Give the ladies at Marguerite's Place a little lift by coming to the show - November 15th at The Majestic. Tickets are $18 in advance, $20 at the show. Doors open at 8, the show starts 8:30.

Headline Honeys' Producer, Alicia Simms says "All of our shows are fun, but this one is also a fundraiser. Burlesque is such an empowering art form, it makes sense for us to reach out and support other groups that empower women in different ways. Marguerite's Place will be a great resource for women in the city and we want to do our part to help them. "

Marguerite's Place is a joint initiative of the St. John's Status of Women Council (SJSWC) and the St. John's Women's Centre (the Women's Centre) and it will be the new home for the Women's Centre, and will house all services, programs and the offices of SJSWC and the Women's Centre. In addition to existing programs, Marguerite's Place will provide safe, affordable housing for single women over the age of 30, within an independent living philosophy and in a manner that respects the diverse experiences and needs of individual women.

The Headline Honeys production company was formed in the summer of 2007??, and was the driving force behind the Vaudeville for Daffodil fundraiser in fall of 2007, and the wildly popular shows Dr Samuel's Fantasmagorical Old Timey Vaudeville Show, The Sin City Lounge with Steady Eddie Strangelove and, most recently, Dr. Samuel's Shenanigan Express. The Headline Honeys also offer workshops and classes in the empowering and adventurous art of burlesque.
